

The
San Francisco Best of the Bay
Bay Guardian 2002
July 31-Aug. 6, 2002

Best Form of Rehabilitation in a Moving Truck

A sad coming-of-age milestone is passed when your belongings number more than your friends. The turn toward too many things happens to the best of us; when it does, Delancey Street Movers will gladly take the weight off your mind, shoulders, and lower back. Fast, professional, affordable, and reliable, the moving company falls within the umbrella organization Delancey Street Foundation, which offers more to the community than good business practice. Since 1970 the foundation has rehabilitated tens of thousands of former criminals through its work programs. The moving company works alongside other businesses — which sell Christmas trees and flowers, fix cars, rent in-line skates, and run a printing outfit, a transportation company, and a restaurant — to fund the rehabilitation center. 600 Embarcadero, S.F. (415) 957-9800.